Summary: On July 31, 2000, Mona Petrochko of Enron Corporation, a member of the Alliance for Retail Markets (ARM), met with Cmmr. Neeper and with Laura Krannawitter, advisor to Cmmr. Duque, in two separate meetings in San Francisco. In the meeting with Cmmr. Neeper also participated David Gamson, advisor to Cmmr. Neeper. At the meeting with Laura Krannawitter also present was Rick Counihan of GreenMountain.com Company. Petrochko indicated ARM's support for the alternate order that authorizes San Diego Gas & Electric Company to refund its TCBA overcollection and to participate in the California Power Exchange Block Forward Market. Petrochko stated ARM's support for these actions, as well as its support for having the Commission open an investigation into the wholesale electric market problems and their resulting impact on retail rates.

Covad Communications Company, for arbitration with Roseville Telephone Company.

Summary: On August 2, 2000, Dhruv Khanna, General Counsel to Covad Communications Company (Covad), met with Cmmr. Wood in San Francisco. Also present were: Jonathan Lakritz, advisor to Cmmr. Wood; and Sarah Bradley and Laura Izon, counsels to Covad. Khanna described how competition in the provisioning of DSL has brought high-speed Internet access to consumers, not just businesses. Izon raised the issue of pricing for smaller ILECs such as Roseville Telecommunications Company (Roseville) and the difficulties faced by competitors trying to enter those markets. Izon said that if Covad cannot enter a market profitably, it is unlikely that any other digital competitive local exchange carriers ("DLEC") would be able to do so. Bradley noted that this was a national problem and emphasized the precedential impact of the Commission's decisions in this area. Bradley also stated that Covad earlier had collocated its equipment in Roseville's offices on the assumption that pricing would be cost-based. Bradley explained that Roseville's current loop prices do not allow to operate profitably in competition with Roseville's retail DSL offering and that Covad must now remove its equipment.

Summary: On August 1, 2000, Dhruv Khanna, General Counsel to Covad Communications Company (Covad), met with Cmmr. Bilas in San Francisco. Also present were: Lester Wong, advisor to Cmmr. Bilas; and Sarah Bradley and Laura Izon, counsels to Covad. Khanna described the dramatic increase in the company's revenues. Bradley noted that Covad earlier had collocated its equipment in Roseville Telephone Company's (Roseville) offices on the assumption that pricing would be cost-based. Bradley explained that Roseville's current loop prices do not allow to operate in competition with Roseville's retail DSL offering and that Covad must now remove its equipment. Izon raised the issue of pricing for smaller independent local exchange carriers (ILECs) and the difficulties faced by competitors. Izon stated that if Covad cannot enter a market profitably, it is unlikely that any other digital competitive local exchange carriers would be able to. Bradley emphasized the precedential impact of decisions in this area. Bradley raised the issue of pricing the high frequency portion of a loop. Bradley stated that California was not following the precedent of other state commissions, which was setting the interim price at $0. Izon explained that this is the true cost, calculated by the ILECs in their tariffs filed with the Federal Communications Commission. Khanna said that the ILECs use a $0 cost in pricing their product not only to consumers directly, but also when selling to large national accounts such as AOL. Khanna added that Covad cannot compete unless pricing is at cost.

8/4/00            A00-01-022        AT&T Communications of California, Inc., TCG- San Francisco, TCG- Los Angeles; TCG-San Diego; TCI Telephony Services of California, for arbitration of an interconnection agreement with Pacific Bell Telephone Company pursuant to Section 252(b) of the Telecommunications Act of 1996.

Summary: On August 1, 2000, Rose Johnson, Government Affairs Vice President for AT&T Communications of California, Inc., (AT&T) met with Cmmr. Bilas and Cmmr. Duque in two separate meetings in San Francisco. At the meeting with Cmmr. Bilas also present was Lester Wong, advisor to Cmmr. Bilas, with Cmmr. Duque – Timothy Sullivan, advisor to Cmmr. Duque. Bob Kargoll, Regulatory Director of AT&T participated in both meetings. Johnson and Kargoll stated that the draft decision (DD) correctly established an equivalent reciprocal compensation payment structure between AT&T and Pacific Bell (PacBell). Johnson and Kargoll explained that, because AT&T's local switches cover a geographic area equivalent to PacBell's tandem switches, and because AT&T's switches have a customer "reach" similar to PacBell's tandem switches, the equivalent compensation structure ordered in the DD was justified.

Summary: On August 2, 2000, Richard Severy, Director of Public Policy, WorldCom, Inc. (WorldCom) met with Cmmr. Bilas in San Francisco. Also present were: Lester Wong, advisor to Cmmr. Bilas; and Tony DiTirro, Senior Manager, WorldCom. Written materials (attached to the notice) were used. Commenting on the draft opinion, WorldCom representatives recommended that the Commission state explicitly that Pacific Bell and GTEC are required to provide nondiscriminatory access to their directory assistance (DA) databases, including listing information they obtain from independent telephone companies and competitive local exchange carriers (CLECs), that LECs carriers use to provide DA. Severy stated that the draft fell short by failing to clearly identify the LECs' obligations to make such information available to other providers of DA service. Severy pointed out that the Telecommunications Act and Federal Communications Commission regulations clearly require independent LECs to provide nondiscriminatory access to their directory listing database. The WorldCom representatives stated that providing other DA service providers with complete listing information should improve the quality and reliability of DA service for consumers.
